HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens)

436 Fleet Lane, Parr, St Helens, nr Liverpool, Merseyside, WA92NH

4. Policy

4.1 Sexuality and personal relationships are an important part of life, expression and well-being and are protected in law. HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) and its staff will support the Service User's ability to form, continue and maintain personal relationships as well as their freedom to express their sexuality.

4.2 HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) understands its legal obligation to acknowledge that sexual orientation is one of the nine protected characteristics defined by the Equality Act 2010. HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) staff will protect the Service User's rights to privacy, dignity, and confidentiality by conducting themselves in a professional manner and treating information as confidential.

4.3 HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) will be mindful in accordance with the NHS digital standard DCB2094: Sexual Orientation Monitoring. Where applicable to the service, if sexual orientation data is recorded in health IT systems (outside of national ISCE), those systems must use the question and response codes set out in the requirements specification. More information can be located via the NHS digital website.

4.4 HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) will safeguard the Service User as far as possible from abuse and harm, whilst respecting their informed choice and will report any incidences of sexual activity, which happen without the consent of the Service User or which are taking place with a Service User who lacks capacity, to the Police, St Helens Safeguarding Team and the CQC.

4.5 Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore will nurture a culture and environment where Service Users and staff feel empowered to talk about sexuality and raise any concerns around safety.

5. Procedure

5.1 Pre-assessment and Ongoing Assessment

Before commencing any care, potential Service Users will be offered the opportunity to discuss their preferences and wishes in relation to any aspect of their care.

It is recognised that some Service Users may not wish to discuss intimate issues with a new person. Therefore, staff responsible for any aspect of the assessment of care needs will be trained, confident and competent to ascertain information in a sensitive, professional and appropriate manner and respect the Service Users who do not wish to disclose information.

Where possible, the following will be established in order to plan and manage any practical support Care Plan:

- | Relationships
- | Sharing of information (with whom and what information)
- | Sexual orientation
- | Sexual health needs
- | Personal dress preferences
- | Sexuality, intimacy and habits
- | Gender identity
- | Wellbeing

As professional relationships grow between the Service User and HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) staff, opportunities will be made available to encourage Service Users to feel comfortable to discuss their sexual preferences.

Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore must also consider, by thorough risk assessment, any identified previously known behaviours that might pose harm to the Service User, other Service Users or staff prior to being admitted to HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) and ensure that management strategies are put in place to reduce the risk. If in any doubt, Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore will not admit the Service User and will discuss their concerns with HWCGS Care.

5.2 Person-Centred Care Planning

Following assessment, a person-centred Care Plan will be completed with the involvement and agreement of the Service User. The Care Plan must include the Service User's wishes regarding their sexuality.

Care Plans will be subject to ongoing review and update, as it must not be assumed that relationships and sexuality will remain the same.

The Care Plan will include the following:

- | Outcomes from the assessment
- | Relationships and priorities of relationships
- | Sharing of information (with whom)
- | Privacy during visits/sharing of rooms etc. balancing risk with rights (consider freedom to remain undisturbed, locked door preferences, staff knocking and waiting before entering)
- | Sharing of rooms and overnight visits
- | Signposting to further information, education, resources (see 5.3 for further information)
- | Other professionals involved in their care such as a sexual health professional, advocate
- | Where specific requests to meet the Service User's sexual health needs are made, and staff are required to support, clear guidance must be available (see 5.6, 5.8)

Staff can refer to the Service User Care Planning Policy and Procedure and the Review Assessment Policy and Procedure at HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) for further details.

5.3 Information and Guidance for Service Users

Service Users will be supported to access information which can help to inform choice and support their capacity to make informed decisions. Information sourced by staff at the request of the Service User must be in an accessible format. Staff will inform Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore where they are unable to determine a suitable format, or there is a situation where an advocate may be required.

The following is a list of potential signposts and resources staff will have access to in order to support Service Users:

HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens)

436 Fleet Lane, Parr, St Helens, nr Liverpool, Merseyside, WA92NH

- | Sexual health services
- | Information on where to obtain advice on psychosexual issues
- | Sex following illness such as a stroke or heart attack, and HIV
- | How to optimise sex life despite physical disability
- | Expert advice from relevant specialists, for example, a nurse specialising in spinal cord injury
- | Charities and websites
- | Specialist dating agencies and online sites to help people form friendships and romantic relationships. Caution should be taken regarding the risks associated with online activities
- | Support and education to enable them to develop and maintain intimate relationships

This list is not exhaustive and must be based on the current Service User need.

5.4 Mental Capacity

Staff can refer to the Mental Capacity Act (MCA) 2005 Policy and Procedure at HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) as well as considering the following when determining the capacity for sexual relations - does the Service User understand:

- | That they have a choice whether to have sex and can refuse?
- | That they can change their mind at any time leading up to, and during, the sexual act?
- | The mechanics of sex?
- | Contraception?
- | Associated health risks, particularly the risk of sexually transmitted infections?
- | That sex between a man and a woman may result in the woman becoming pregnant?

It must be remembered that, when determining capacity, it is the individual and not the relationship that is assessed.

Where it is difficult to determine a person's capacity to consent to sexual relations, professional advice must be sought. Staff must be clear that no one can make a Best Interest Decision to determine a person's ability to consent to sex.

If a Service User is deemed not to have the capacity to consent to sex, staff must ensure that they prevent that Service User from having sex. (Refer to 5.9 for information relating to Safeguarding).

Staff must record any assessments completed to determine the capacity of that Service User.

5.5 Consent and Confidentiality

Staff must be aware that, by law, individuals must have the ability to consent to sexual relations, have the capacity to make decisions (see 5.4) and be 16 or over. If staff are concerned at any time that Service Users have not consented to sexual activity, this will be immediately raised with Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore.

Staff must not discuss any aspect of the Service User's sexual activity with loved ones unless explicit consent has been received from the Service User. Even if a Service User lacks mental capacity, it is not appropriate to give information to other people, especially if it is known that the Service User wanted to keep things private. Care staff must discuss any concerns with Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore.

5.6 Supporting Consenting Parties

HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) will ensure that staff support consenting Service Users to exercise their right to sexual relationships and intimacy, unless there is potential or actual detrimental impact on other Service Users. Where other Service Users are affected, Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore will try to resolve their issues in the first instance rather than preventing those Service Users from having sexual relations.

Staff will agree and ensure that Service Users are provided with privacy to allow for intimacy. This will be sensitively communicated to other staff to ensure that Service Users are not disturbed at their chosen times, without compromising confidentiality.

Whilst supporting and enabling Service Users to have sexual relationships, staff must also balance this with protecting unwanted or inappropriate intimate contact for other Service Users in HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens). (Where issues arise, staff must refer to 5.9).

Where relationship difficulties arise for the Service User, support can be offered from staff and, where necessary, a referral made to the relevant health care professionals (with the Service User's consent), for example, to counsellors or independent advocates.

In the event of a Service User requesting the support of staff that may compromise professional boundaries, the law or have a direct impact on other Service Users, the member of staff will refer the request sensitively to Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore for advice and support. Staff can refer to the RCN Older People in Care Homes: Sex, Sexuality and Intimate Relationships (2018) document for clear guidance.

5.7 Gender Recognition

Staff working in HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) have a legal duty to identify the specific needs arising from diversity, including gender, gender identity, and sexuality and must ensure that Service Users are enabled to maintain and develop their personal identity within the community of HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens).

Therefore, the following principles apply:

- | Staff will refer to the Service User in their chosen and preferred identity at all times
- | If Service Users are transitioning into their preferred gender identity, staff will support accordingly to ensure that the transition is as smooth as possible. This may involve close partnership working with other health care professionals
- | Service Users will be able to wear clothes appropriate to their expressed gender identity and this may need to be established on a day-to-day basis
- | Service Users will be entitled to use the bathroom facilities which are associated with their expressed gender identity and Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore will consider the accommodation to ensure that it complies with the Equality Act
- | Service Users can update their name and title within their personnel/care records at any stage without the need for a Gender Recognition Certificate. (This does not include the ability to change national insurance and pension data as this will require a Gender Recognition Certificate). If a Service User requests to change their name and title, staff must discuss this with Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore
- | Staff will make every effort to ensure that the Service User's gender status and transition history remain confidential at all times and that they are not disclosed without their express permission

Any observation of discrimination, exclusion or inequality of a Service User due to their sexual identity must be reported in a timely manner to a senior member of staff. Staff can refer to the Equality and Diversity Policy and the Equality and Human Rights policy for further details.

5.8 Minimising the Risk of Inappropriate Sexual Behaviour

The following principles can support reducing the risk of incidences occurring relating to sexual behaviour:

- | A sufficient history has been established at the pre-assessment stage, with a risk assessment in place
- | Enough staff must be on duty with the competence, experience and skills to meet the needs of all Service Users at all times. Staff can refer to the Staff Rota Policy and Procedure for further details
- | Staff have received appropriate support, training, professional development, supervision and appraisal as necessary (see 5.10)
- | Care Plans are detailed to clearly support staff on how they can work with Service Users to meet needs
- | Care Plans include how to manage any behaviours that could lead to incidences occurring and how to safeguard against risk

5.9 Management of Incidents

If staff are concerned that anyone has been, or is being, exposed to the following, they must immediately ensure the safety of that person if they are at imminent risk and discuss with Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore:

- | Unconsenting sexual intercourse or lacking the capacity to consent to sexual intercourse
- | Grooming
- | Sexual exploitation
- | Modern slavery
- | Human trafficking
- | Forced marriage
- | Domestic abuse

HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens)

436 Fleet Lane, Parr, St Helens, nr Liverpool, Merseyside, WA92NH

- | Illegal or explicit access to images

St Helens will be alerted as well as the police where appropriate, and a CQC notification will be made.

Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore will discuss with HWCGS Care any legal concerns they may have on any action they propose to take in relation to a Service User.

Where intimate contact becomes an issue, HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens) will conduct an appropriate risk assessment and ensure that there is a clear strategy in place to try and reduce the risk of reoccurrence. This may involve discussing the situation with other parties, which could include a representative or advocate of the Service User, health or social services professional/s, or, in relevant circumstances, a relative.

5.10 Management of Sexual Disinhibition

Staff need to be aware that sexual disinhibition could be a sign that the Service User has an unmet need and must do the following:

- | Try to establish what the unmet need is
- | Ensure that the Service User has meaningful occupation and activity
- | Ensure that Service User has access to a safe, private space and time to themselves to fulfil their own sexual needs
- | Ensure that regularly reviewed and current behaviour Care Plans and risk assessments are in place
- | Where behaviour is uncharacteristic, ensure that a medical assessment is considered to rule out any underlying physical cause

Staff will try and establish the facts on any intimate situation that, in the first instance, raises concern. This way, if there is a genuine misunderstanding or misinterpretation, the situation can be resolved locally and monitored.

Staff can refer to the Behaviour that Challenges Policy and Procedure for the procedure to manage sexual behaviours, whilst also considering the following questions:

- | When and where did the situation causing concern occur?
- | What form did the behaviours take
- | What did the persons involved say or do?
- | What else was happening?
- | Was there anything specific that seemed to prompt the behaviours?
- | Were other people involved?
- | What were the responses?
- | If it is decided that there is a concern, for whom is this a problem?

5.11 Training and Education

All staff will undertake the relevant induction and training in relation to their role. This includes being aware of the law, St Helens guidance in relation to capacity, consent, safeguarding (to include exploitation and abuse) and person-centred care and reading and understanding this policy.

Mandatory Training will Include:

- | Understanding dignity and respect in relation to the right to privacy and family life
- | Confidentiality
- | Professional conduct and boundaries
- | Equality, diversity and human rights
- | Communication
- | Person-centred Care Planning, risk assessment and individual rights
- | Capacity and consent
- | Legal frameworks

Ongoing

- | Staff will be trained to understand and support the wide variation and complexities in sexuality as part of ongoing training programmes
- | Staff will have the skills to respond to situations in a sensitive manner
- | Staff will be supported to raise issues and questions regarding training through 1-1s to ensure their understanding and eliminate prejudice

- | Resources will be accessed and available to support a greater understanding (refer to the Further Reading section of this policy)
- | Mr Damian Cummings Gillian Gilmore will nurture a culture where staff are comfortable to discuss sexuality with professionalism. Support, education and supervision will be offered to staff who feel they are unable to support a Service User's right to sexual expression

6. Definitions

6.1 Consent

- | Freely being able to agree to something with knowledge to make the decision

6.2 Lawful

- | Legally allowed/authorised

6.3 Sexuality

- | 'A central aspect of being human throughout life encompasses sex, gender identities and roles, sexual orientation, eroticism, pleasure, intimacy and reproduction. Sexuality is experienced and expressed in thoughts, fantasies, desires, beliefs, attitudes, values, behaviours, practices, roles and relationships. While sexuality can include all of these dimensions, not all of them are always experienced or expressed. Sexuality is influenced by the interaction of biological, psychological, social, economic, political, cultural, legal, historical, religious and spiritual factors' (WHO, 2006a)

6.4 Capacity

- | As defined in the CQC provider guidance glossary of terms: 'The ability by someone to make a specific decision for himself or herself in a given situation. It is assumed that anyone aged 16 or over has capacity unless proven otherwise'
- | There are no degrees of capacity: either a person has capacity to make a particular decision or does not. People may have the capacity to make some decisions but not others. Children under 16 are assumed not to have capacity unless they have sufficient understanding and intelligence to enable them to understand fully what is proposed
- | Capacity is defined by the Mental Capacity Act 2005 as:
'People who lack capacity:
For the purposes of this Act, a person lacks capacity in relation to a matter if at the material time he is unable to make a decision for himself in relation to the matter because of an impairment of, or disturbance in the functioning of, the mind or brain.
It does not matter if the impairment or disturbance is permanent or temporary.
A lack of capacity cannot be established merely by reference to:
 - | A person's age or appearance
 - | A condition of his, or an aspect of his behaviour, which might lead others to make unjustified assumptions about his capacity'

6.5 LGBT

- | LGBT is an abbreviation for lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender

6.6 Sexual Orientation

- | Sexual orientation describes a person's physical, romantic, and/or emotional attraction to another person (for example: straight, gay, lesbian, bisexual). Gender identity describes a person's internal, personal sense of being a man or a woman (or someone who does not identify themselves as a man or woman). Simply put, sexual orientation is about who you are attracted to, and gender identity is about your own sense of self

6.7 Sexual Disinhibition

- | Damage to specific parts of the brain can result in people no longer being aware that their behaviours are unacceptable. This could lead to some people being less sexually inhibited in their speech or behaviour. Damage to the brain can also cause increases or decreases in sexual desire. These conditions might lead to people misinterpreting situations or misidentifying someone, resulting in unwanted sexual behaviour

HWCGS Care (T/A Segal Gardens)

436 Fleet Lane, Parr, St Helens, nr Liverpool, Merseyside, WA92NH

6.8 Psychosexual

- | This term focuses on the psychological aspects of sexuality rather than the physical function

6.9 Cognition

- | The mental action or process of acquiring knowledge and understanding through thought, experience, and the senses

6.10 Gender Recognition Certificate

- | A Gender Recognition Certificate is the document issued that shows that a person has satisfied the criteria for legal recognition in the acquired gender
